

Week of 9/20/2021 Operations Update

A surge in the population of Aedes infirmatus this week. The bar graph below shows the total adult mosquitoes from all traps in the District for the past year (TTM).

A slight emergence of the flood-water species Aedes infirmatus was noticeable in the traps last week and we anticipated this species should be more prolific the following week (graph below).

Zones highlighted in yellow on the map below were sprayed by truck, blocks in blue were treated by helicopter this week.
